MOODY TO PROCEED AGAINST SANTA FE

Stated That Report of Interstate Commerce Commission Does Not Mention Paul Morton—Reputed Violation of Law.

WILLIAM H. MOODY, United States Attorney General, who is expected to institute legal proceedings against the Santa Fe.

The Republic Bureau.
West Building, 14th and F Streets.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Prosecution of the Santa Fe Railroad on the charge of giving rebates to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company is regarded as the inevitable sequel to the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission to-day in forwarding to the Attorney General a report of the investigation which shows that the law has been violated by this company.

Attorney General Moody has not announced his intention, but the statement is positively made that the contents of the report are so conclusive in proving an offense that the Attorney General will have no alternative but to proceed.

Mr. Moody, Secretary of the Navy, it is believed, has his connection with the Santa Fe so close that he will not be brought into the process. The report does not have to do with the division of the road with the Iron or any law come from other sources.

The substance of the charge is that in the time immediately preceding the sale of the railroad, after which time the new owners secured special advantages for the company at the cost, which has been incurred during the period of the Santa Fe.

Under the railroad ownership coal was shipped to the iron works at St. Louis. Under the ownership of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company the same rate obtained. Company bills for coal per ton, $4 for freight plus $10 for coal on the road, the amount. This amounted to a rebate of $1.30 a ton.
